

Interim Commissioner Welcomes Final Royal Commission Report

15 December 2017

The Interim Commissioner for Children and Young People David Clements today welcomed the Final Report of the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse.

Today Mr Clements said, "I thank all of those involved in this incredibly important and historic work."

"I especially acknowledge the many people, including children and young people, who bravely told their stories to the Royal Commission.

"I will be carefully considering the Report's Recommendations over the coming weeks.

"What is clear is that we must as, a community, strengthen our combined efforts to ensure that current and future generations of children and young people are protected from all types of harm."

Mr Clements looks forward to engaging in conversations with the Tasmanian Government and other interested parties as they consider and respond to these important Recommendations.
